Annual Revenue Return - 2023

A Report on Political Party Revenues

Introduction

On or before the last day of March each year, registered political parties are required to file an annual revenue return with the Chief Electoral Officer. This annual report by Elections Yukon summarizes the revenue received by registered political parties for the 2023 calendar year.

Electoral Finance

In a democracy, elections between competing political parties and movements have been the dominant process to elect governments. To reach out to the electorate and explain their goals and policies, and to receive input from the people on their views, candidates and political parties require funding. Access to funding, with no strings attached, is crucial to the overall vibrancy of an electoral and democratic system.<sup>1</sup>

Rules regarding electoral finance are primarily based on the premise that money can be a significant factor in electoral success. As such, political finance regulation has an important role in providing a framework designed to make financing fair, transparent and accountable. This includes requirements respecting contributions to the various political entities involved in the territorial election.

Fairness in election finance allows candidates and parties to obtain the financial means to conduct their operations and campaigns while supporting the right of the public to participate by making contributions.

Transparency in election finance provides for the filing of financial reports and returns of election revenues and expenses and the public disclosure of the data.

Financial Provisions Legislation

The Yukon Elections Act provides a regulatory framework designed to make the financing of the political system transparent and fair. 'Financial Provisions for Candidates and Registered Political Parties' are contained in Part 6 of the Act.

The Elections Act specifies statutory election financial reports required of political parties and candidates.

Report - Annual Revenue Return

This is an annual revenue return to the Chief Electoral Officer filed by registered political parties on or before the last day of March in each year. It provides the total revenues (contributions and total of 'other revenues') received by the political parties for the calendar year.

This report sets out the total amount of the political party's revenue and the number, type, and total amount of all contributions. This report is limited to revenue. There are no financial statements such as balance sheets or income statements. There is no requirement to report liabilities, detail other revenue sources, indicate surplus/deficit position, or to identify assets, loans, or holdings.

Reports - Following an Electoral Event

These reports are only required during general elections and by-elections. There is no report of this type for 2023.

These reports are based on the 'election period' as provided for in the Elections Act. It is the period between the issue of the writ and ends on the date of the return of the writ. Each political party and candidate are to file on or before the 90th day after the return of the writ:

- Election Revenue Return (ERR): This return is required of all candidates and political parties after an election event. It provides the total revenues (contributions and total of 'other revenues') received by candidates and the political parties).

This report sets out the total amount of the registered political party or candidate has received for campaign purposes and identifies each amount included in the total.

For political parties, it reports each amount received in the name of the candidate endorsed by the political party, or the amount received from a candidate endorsed by the political party, for expenses, including those for notices or advertising paid by the registered political party on behalf of the candidate.

For candidates, it reports each amount received from a registered political party, or by a registered political party on behalf of a candidate.

- Election Expenses Return (EER): This return is required of all candidates and political parties after an election event. It provides the total fair market value of goods and services used during the election period.

This report sets out the fair market value of all goods and services used during the election period.

Categories include electronic and print media, office and administration, personnel, election travel, and any other costs (such as candidate stipends).

- Election Financing Return (EFR): This return is required of all candidates and political parties and after an election event. It provides the information used in the election revenue and election expense reports to identify a surplus or deficit and provides debt holder information and surplus fund disposition requirements.

This report sets out the total revenues (as reported in the election revenue return), total expenses (as reported in the election expenses return), and the amount surplus or deficit determined by subtracting total expenses from the total of all revenues received.

If a deficit is reported, the report shall include the names and addresses of all debt holders and the amount of each debt.

If a registered political party endorsed the candidate, the candidate's surplus funds shall be paid to the political party and proof of payment made is provided with the election financing return. If a registered political party did not endorse the candidate, the surplus funds are to be paid to the Chief Electoral Officer who will pay them to the Yukon Consolidated Revenue Fund.

Terms and Definitions

Revenue

For reporting purposes, revenue for a period means the total of all amounts received as contributions and all other revenue.

Other Revenue

All non-contribution revenues (such as fundraising, donations, memberships, etc.) combined and reported to the Chief Electoral Officer as a single total sum as 'other revenue.' It is interpreted as gross revenue minus contributions. Other revenue includes:

- proceeds from fundraising activities
- donations received at meetings and rallies held for political purposes
- membership fees
- event registration fees
- loans
- income from investments or other sources

'Other revenue' is not reported by category. Receipts, statements, or other documentation are not required with the 'other revenue' report submission.

Contributions

Contributions are gifts made to a political party in the form of money, goods, services, or discounts off the usual price of goods and services. It does not include volunteer labour or the payment of a candidate's nomination deposit. Contributions are identified by type as either monetary or in-kind. Official receipts are issued for both types of contributions, but only monetary contributions are eligible for a political tax credit from the Canada Revenue Agency. The statutory requirements of the annual report require an itemized tally of each contribution made. Receipts are required to be issued for all contributions by officials authorized for that purpose by the leader of the respective party.

- Monetary contributions: These are contributions in the form of money and include cash, the monetary value of negotiable instruments (such as cheques), and money conveyed by credit card or other similar means.
- Contributions In-Kind: These are contributions of goods and services. As examples, these include the donation of goods such as used office equipment or the donation of services such as computer repairs. The amount of a contribution in-kind is its fair market value when they are made. Cryptocurrency is also considered as a contribution in-kind.
- Anonymous Contributions: Candidates and registered political parties are not to accept anonymous contributions. If an anonymous contribution in cash or equivalent is received, it shall be immediately remitted to the Chief Electoral Officer and paid into the Yukon Consolidated Revenue Fund. In the case of an anonymous in-kind contribution of a good or service, it shall be immediately delivered to the Chief Electoral Officer who shall donate it to a non-profit group or dispose of it in any other manner the Chief Electoral Officer deems appropriate. Proceeds from the disposition, if any, are paid into the Yukon Consolidated Revenue Fund.

- Donations Made at a Meeting or Rally Held for Political Purposes: These donations are deemed not to be anonymous contributions and are to be included as other revenue as reported in both the annual revenue return and election revenue return as appropriate.

Contributors

A contributor is a person or unincorporated group. There are no restrictions regarding eligibility as an elector or jurisdictional location to be a contributor.

- Person: includes an individual; a corporation incorporated in any jurisdiction; and a partnership or other unincorporated association, organization or body that is registered under the Partnership and Business Names Act.
- Unincorporated groups: includes trade unions, political parties, and any other entity that is not a person.

Contribution Limits

There are no limits to the number or value of contributions that a contributor can make. All contributions must be properly receipted and reported by the party.

There is no restriction on who can contribute to a party, as long as the contributor's information is provided.

There is no limit on the total amount of contributions a party can accept. All the contributions must be properly disclosed.

Disclosure of Contributions

All contributions, both monetary and in-kind, must be reported. The annual revenue return must include duplicate copies of all official receipts issued.

Contributors' information is publicly disclosed if total contributions exceed $250. For each total contribution over $250, the name and address of the contributor is reported, along with the amount contributed. In-kind contributions that are subject to disclosure also include a description of the goods or services contributed.

A contribution over $250 is made when the total of monetary and in-kind contributions exceeds $250 in a calendar year.

Annual revenue returns filed with the Chief Electoral Officer are public information and are available for public inspection at Elections Yukon during regular business hours. The Elections Act prohibits the disclosure of names of contributors who contribute a total of $250 or less. Access to duplicates of receipts is not authorized.

Reports published by the Chief Electoral Officer are available on the Elections Yukon website or by contacting the office.

Disclosure of Contributors

Contributors are reported as persons (individuals, corporations, and partnerships) or unincorporated groups (trade union, political party, or other entity, not a person). All contributions, both monetary and in-kind, must be reported.

- Contributions up to $50: The number of contributions is reported with total amounts. The names and addresses of contributors are not disclosed in this report nor are they available for public disclosure.

The names and addresses are not disclosed in this report nor are they available for public disclosure.

A candidate or political party shall not accept donations of more than $50 from an unincorporated group unless a statement containing the information noted in the previous paragraph accompanies it.

Unincorporated groups must provide a statement, which identifies the name and address of each contributor of more than $250 towards the total contribution or indicates that there were no individual contributions of more than $250.

Contribution Tax Credits

The Political Contribution Tax Credit is available to individuals and corporations that contribute to a recognized territorial political party or candidate. The latest update to credit amounts was on January 1, 2016. The maximum annual credit is $650, which results from a total contribution of $1,275 or more.

- 33.33% of the next $525 of contributions

Contents of the 2023 Annual Revenue Return Report

This report contains information from the annual revenue returns filed by registered political parties for the 2023 calendar year.

Party officials completed their annual revenue returns in accordance with the Elections Act, as amended in December 2015. Collaboration between Elections Yukon and political party officials in supporting financial reports was conducted through orientation and information sessions as well as updates and reminders to promote on time and compliant filing.

Elections Yukon is responsible for the provision and issue of official receipts to authorized officials of the political parties. In addition, a software program access was provided with a guide and templates to facilitate the issue of receipts and reporting by political parties.
